In the Classroom - Teachers will help students develop college-preparatory and career readiness skills using high-quality curriculum and instruction through rigorous academic and performing arts tasks, utilizing project-based instruction with regular work-based learning opportunities through LAUSD's Linked Learning Program.

At Home - Parents and families can support their child's learning by offering them a safe, quiet place to study, access to the local public library, monitoring their assignments through Schoolology, checking their college preparation progress through Naviance and encouraging the use of College Board and Khan Academy.
Families support their children by attending performance and school events

Students - Students strive to maintain 2.0 or higher GPA, progress toward mastery of standards and a meaningful college and career plan using Schoology, Naviance, and College Board, take care of their school-issued computer and textbooks, and improve skills in career readiness through project-based instruction and work-based learning opportunities.

Communication about Student Learning

The school will communicate with our students' families about student academic progress through:

- Website & Instagram
- Student-Led Conferences
- Progress reports on student achievement
- Access to staff by phone, email & Schoology
- Performance volunteer support opportunities
- Townhall Meetings with Administration

Office Hours & Tutoring

Every Teacher offers:

- Office Hours to meet with parents
- Tutoring opportunities for students
